

AFFORDABLE CHIC ON ANGUILLA

Robin and Sue Ricketts, award-winning co-creators of famed resorts (think Malliouhana, and Cap Juluca), are pleased to be the proud owners of their own hotel on Anguilla.

Anacaona Boutique Hotel is located in that trendy corner of Anguilla known as West End, a low-profile neighborhood with most of the island's luxury resorts and high-end villas, a variety of restaurants and beach bars, the Greg Norman golf course and other attractions – but no more than 20 minutes by car from the airport or 10 from the ferry at Blowing Point. With its 27 rooms and suites sits on 3 1/2-acres of frangipani and coco palms a few paces along a garden path from mile-long Meads Bay, one of the most beautiful stretches of beach on the island.

Anacaona (pronounced an-nah-kyoh-nah), features stylish décor, new menus in the garden-poolside restaurant, “Firefly Restaurant and Bar,” not one but two swimming pools (for 27 rooms and suites!), full beach service, both on and off beach massage centers – and, above all, a reinvention of island nightlife.

Anacaona Boutique Hotel is envisioned to be Anguilla's unofficial cultural entertainment center, The focus of the tropical evenings will be local musicians, local dance groups, dinner theater, carnival nights, maybe even poolside chats with engaging local historians. Guests will leave Anguilla with a much richer understanding of what this special island is all about. Featuring one of Anguilla's oldest cultural groups “Mayoumba Folkloric Theatre” told through song and dance featuring centuries of Anguillian History. Then dance to true West Indian music by the Mayoumba Strings. Enjoy a traditional Anguillian dinner buffet with Traditional dishes like Anguillian Pea Soup, Goat Meat, Curry Conch, Anguillian Bread Pudding and lots more.

Nestled amongst palm trees & glistening lights, this restaurant is the unofficial cultural entertainment centre of Anguilla, offering poolside dinner theatre, music, dance & carnival a few times per week. People come to Anguilla to relax so the dress code in Firefly is casually chic.

Our menu features a fusion of traditional Caribbean cuisine with an Eurasian slant of mixed European/American and Asian influences. In our quest to create a truly island experience the menus in both the bar and restaurant will feature many Anguillian dishes, with Dog Island Curried Goat and Mama Paul's Tuna Tartar sharing top billing with our Eurasian menu of Sue's Spicy Pork Chop, Chicken Francaise, Variety of Grilled Fishes and Black Angus Steak-- all served with old-style piping hot Johnny Cakes. Many of the ingredients come from our own organic garden and orchard just beyond the main pool. We also have "theme nights" and Antilean Night (Thursday), the latter with a floor show performed by the local Mayoumba folklore troupe.

Firefly is open for breakfast, lunch and dinner the menu of bar snacks is available throughout the day. Dinner entrees range in price from $24 to $48 but we won't be offended if you settle for the bar snacks, (mostly US$10 a serving) including, amongst other offerings, seven types of wings, conch fritters and calamari.

The Firefly bar is open from 11.00 a.m. until 11 p.m. but may well stay open longer since our bartender has created an inviting collection of specialty tropical drinks "For Those Who Are..." (that is, "For Those Who are...Romantic" or "...Past It" or whatever -- guests will have to read the complete menu to match their moods).
